Kitchen Troubles and the Remedy.

Only a few years ago it was considered good form to encase the sink in wood thereby concealing the trap, making it inaccessible and offering a place for the collection of filth and vermin.

If this condition exists in your household, let us remedy the trouble by installing a snowy white "Standard" Porcelain Enameled Kitchen Sink. Our work is satisfactory and prices right.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over forty years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment cures in the privacy of your home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of bad cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take his advice and be well.

Mrs. R. D. Monfort, of Lebanon, Warren Co., O., writes: "I have received the 'Medical Adviser.' A crisp, new five dollar bill could not tempt me to part with it."

On receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay cost of mailing only, we will send to any address a paper-bound copy of Dr. Pierce's great 1000-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser." Or, for 31 stamps the same in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets — The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. Little pill, Little dose, but give great results in a curative way in all derangements of Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

RULES FOR A HOME.

Remember that home begins with charity.

Remember that open windows make health epidemic.

If you must worry, take a big thing. The little things will knock you out.

Keep your children, your dogs and your troubles away from your guests.

The dining room should always be sacred. That is the one room where no scraps should be allowed.

Have the same standard of morals for yourself as for your children. You need it as much as they do.

There are three standpoints to every home—your own, your wife's and the cook's. Try and forget your own.

Put over the front door for every member of the family to read, "He who enters here leaves satire behind."

Buy everything on the installment plan by paying for it all in one installment—the first.—Tom Masson in Judge.

WHEN IN NEED

There is a great variety to select from—choicest sauces, olives, olive oil, pickles in glass or bulk, potted meats, anchovies, caviar, preserves, jellies, jams—and a full line of fancy groceries. The Invincible Armada.

The invincible armada was a famous naval expedition sent by Philip II. of Spain against England in 1588. It consisted of 130 vessels, 2,430 great guns, 4,575 quintals of powder, nearly 20,000 soldiers, above 8,000 sailors and more than 2,000 volunteers. It arrived in the English channel on July 19 and was defeated the next day by Admiral Howard, who was seconded by Drake, Hawkins and Frobisher. Eight fire ships having been sent into the Spanish fleet, they bore off in great disorder. Profiting by the panic, the English fell upon them and captured or destroyed a number of their ships, and Admiral Howard maintained a running fight from July 21 to July 27, with such effect that the Spanish commander, despairing of success, resolved to return home, and as escape through the English channel was prevented by contrary winds he undertook to sail around the Orkneys, but the vessels which still remained to him were dispersed by storms or shipwrecked among the rocks and shallows on different parts of the Scottish and Irish coast, and upward of 5,000 men were drowned, killed or taken prisoners. Of the whole armada fifty-three ships only returned to Spain and these in a wretched condition. The English lost but one ship.

Choosing a Wife.

The plainest features become handsome unawares when associated only with kind feelings and the loveliest face disagreeable when linked with ill humor or caprice. People should remember this when they are selecting a face which they are to see every morning across the breakfast table for the remainder of their lives.—N. P. Willis.

Real Enjoyment.

"Yes, you can spend the day at grandpa's, but be a good boy or your papa will whip you."

"Yes'm."

"I don't see how you get so much enjoyment out of talking to grandpa."

"I get him to tell me about the lickings he used to give pop."—Houston Post.

A Cautious Statement.

More reserved in its wording than most epitaphs is one in a Derbyshire churchyard, which, after giving particulars of birth and death, concludes, "'Twas said he was an honest man."

Unhappiness.

They who have never known prosperity can hardly be said to be unhappy. It is from the remembrance of joys we have lost that the arrows of affliction are pointed.—Emile Zola.

The Sunday Stone.

The "Sunday stone" of the Oxford museum was taken from a colliery drain and is a perfect calendar of Sundays and holidays. It is composed of carbonate of lime. When miners were at work, the water running through the drain left a black deposit colored by coal dust. At other times the water ran clear, leaving the stone deposit white. In course of time these black and white layers formed a stone of considerable thickness, which constitutes a very complete calendar. Each day of work has as its record a black streak, followed by a white streak, which marks the hours of rest at night. Wider white streaks mark the Sundays and whole holidays, and thus it has taken its name as the "Sunday stone."—London Mail.

Rossini's Memory.

Rossini's memory was lacking in retentiveness, especially in respect to the names of persons who had been introduced to him. This forgetfulness was frequently a cause of amusement whenever Rossini was among company. One day he met Bishop, the English composer. Rossini knew the face well enough and at once greeted him. "Ah, my dear Mr."— but the name escaped his memory, and to convince him that he had not forgotten him Rossini began whistling Bishop's glee, "When the Wind Blows," a compliment which "the English Mozart," as Bishop had been dubbed, recognized quite as readily as if his ecclesiastical surname had been mentioned.

A Mob.

A mob is usually a creature of very mysterious existence, particularly in a large city. Where it comes from or whither it goes few men can tell. Assembling and dispersing with equal suddenness, it is as difficult to follow to its various sources as the sea itself, nor does the parallel stop here, for the ocean is not more fickle and uncertain, more terrible when aroused, more unreasonable or more cruel.—Dickens.

The Maroons.

The Maroons were the descendants of African slaves, brought to Jamaica by the Spaniards. During the conquest of Jamaica by the English the Maroons, deserted by their masters, fled to the mountain fastnesses, where they lived a fierce, wild life. Increasing daily in number by the many deserting slaves, the Maroons soon became formidable to their white neighbors, whom they plundered and killed. In 1738 an agreement was made which secured to them an independence, which they maintained for 140 years, but the English finally determined to exterminate them and for this purpose pursued them barbarously with bloodhounds. Hemmed in on every side and hunted down, they were compelled to submit and only 600 escaped, who were transported to the bleak shores of Nova Scotia, where they perished miserably.

COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Saturday, January 13, 1906.

D. E. O'KEEFE.....EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

WELCOME ELECTRIC ROAD.

It is to be hoped no opposition will be raised against the efforts of the Peninsula Railway Company for a franchise to operate an electric road from Palo Alto to San Carlos. This section of the county is rapidly developing as a place for homes and a good train service is needed. We are in need of an electric road and when it is constructed hundreds of families will build homes here. By all means encourage the promoters of the enterprise and let us have an electric road no matter what sacrifice is to be made. The benefits to be gained cannot be estimated at this time. The temporary inconveniences to be encountered at the beginning will soon be overcome and forgotten and an era of prosperity such as this community has never before experienced will be the result of the construction of the road. There should be no obstacle placed in the way of the promoters who are willing to expend their money in the enterprise.

The Examiner had a long article Wednesday stating that John C. Edgar would in a few days be appointed Warden at San Quentin. It is to be hoped that the statement is true, for there is not in the State a better man for that office. Owing to his long experience as Deputy Warden at the prison he has a full knowledge of the arduous duties of the position. Then, too, he is a strict disciplinarian and at the same time cordial to his subordinates. He has had a wide experience with the criminal class. He served several terms as Sheriff of this county and has been a deputy warden for nearly twenty years. Mr. Edgar would give the State a splendid administration and for that reason it is to be earnestly hoped that the board of prison directors will appoint him.

O. A. Hale, president of the Peninsula Railway Company, assures us that the Southern Pacific Company has nothing to do with the construction of the proposed electric road from San Jose to San Carlos—that he and his associates have put up their own money to build the road. While the old company is friendly to its new rival, yet it is not interested in the Peninsula Company in any way.

Congressman E. A. Hayes of this district, though only a few weeks in Congress, is showing great ability and zeal on behalf of his constituents. He has introduced several important bills and has already received many favors from the President. He takes well with all the Congressmen and is very popular at Washington. Mr. Hayes is just the kind of man to keep in office. Able, honest and a worker, he is certain to become a power in the House of Representatives.

WILY REYNARD.

Few Wild Creatures Can Compete With the Fox in Craftiness.

Those familiar with the "Fables of Æsop" will remember the reputation which reynard bears among the rest of the animals. It is questionable whether any wild creature can compete with the fox in craftiness. To look at him generally, even in his ordinary habits, he exhibits an amount of cleverness which astonishes one. Should a fox catch a hedgehog, whose spines effectually protect him from most of his enemies, he does not waste time, as a fox terrier will do, in endeavoring to worry his prey. He merely rolls him to the nearest water, knowing that a drop or two will cause the animal to relax his hold.

It is a rare thing to catch one in a trap laid at the door of his "earth" even. If he is inside when the trap is set he waits until some other animal springs it and then emerges to eat the victim and the bait. Only when driven by the terrible pangs of hunger will he tempt fate in his own person. Most animals gorge themselves when they are fortunate enough to come across a superabundance of food. Not so with reynard. Should he find a poultry yard well stocked and ill protected he fills his larder first. Nor does he, as the proverb says, "put all his eggs in one basket." He puts one fowl in a hedge, hides another in a bush, places a third in a hole in a tree, rapidly digs a cavity for a fourth and covers it up again, remembering in each case where his stores are concealed. And when his supplies are sufficient in his own estimation he takes a fine fat chicken or duck to his "earth" for present enjoyment.—London Field.

They Tell a Different Story.

There are peculiarities of our English language which no other language exhibits. Did you ever notice how many English words are formed by simply dropping alternate letters—for example, wheat, heat, eat, at; sham, ham, am; wheel, heel, eel; whale, hale, ale, and scores of others?

Again, we have in our mother tongue two words which, joined together, make a distinct word of an entirely different meaning, just as a single word disjointed does. Take the words "since" and "rely" or the separate word "sincerely." To illustrate:

Your letter came, in words that tempt me dearly,
You wrote them, sweet, most truly and sincerely.
For praise like that heroes might gladly die,
But on another's love you since rely.

The Echoes of Eagle's Nest.

The most wonderful echo in the known world is that heard from the Eagle's Nest in the lake regions of Ireland. The rock known as "Eagle's Nest" is the most prominent peak to be found among the heights that surround the Killarney lakes. Its apex is 1,250 feet above the surface of the water, and the extraordinary echo is heard to the best advantage from a spot 100 feet to the west from an opening called the Devil's mouth. At that point the effect of the re-echoed sounds is absolutely startling, the slightest whisper being repeated as often as 1,000 times. The rebound is always clear and distinct and appears to come from the crags, cliffs and peaks which surround the experimenter on all sides.

Something is not done soon to stop the wholesale shipment of clams to San Francisco from this county, there will be none left in the local marshes. Over a hundred cases are shipped from this city every day, and perhaps as many more from Belmont. This cannot go on very long, for at that rate there would not be a clam in the marshes in a year. A large number of Chinese and Japanese are engaged in the traffic, making large profits.

All the marshes of Alameda county have been robbed of their clams and the Orientals are endeavoring to do the same thing here. The Supervisors should pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of them outside the county.

SALT COMPANY WINS.

Local Concern Obtains Judgment in Action on Contract.

The civil suit of the Redwood City Salt Company against A. L. Whitney and C. E. Whitney was tried before a jury in the Superior Court this week and a verdict rendered for plaintiff.

Last July the Salt Company commenced the action to recover the sum of $2,410 for 777 tons of salt delivered to the defendants. The latter in their cross-complaint alleged that they were only acting as agents and were not responsible for the amount of money sued for. They claimed that the salt was bought by a firm in San Francisco and shipped to Siberia and that said firm was responsible for the money. Defendants also filed a counter claim, alleging that they had ordered a large quantity of salt from plaintiff to be sent to the firm that bought the last order, and that it was to be shipped also to Siberia. In not filling the order promptly the said defendants suffered a loss of $40,000.

Much evidence was produced at the trial, which commenced on Tuesday and ended on Wednesday afternoon. After the jury deliberated for an hour it brought in a unanimous verdict for plaintiff for $2,215.20. This was the amount asked for by Attorney Geo. C. Ross in his argument to the jury. He said that the difference between that sum and the amount sued for belong to defendants for sacks furnished and work performed by defendants' workmen.

Geo. C. Ross and his son Hall appeared for plaintiff, and Attorney Hewlett of San Francisco for defendants. Most likely the case will be appealed.

DUCKS HAVE FISHY FLAVOR.

Owing to Absence of Storms Ducks Remain on Salt Water.

This year lovers of duck dinners are complaining that the canvasback and his relative, the redhead, are unfit to eat, and many are wondering what is the reason.

The ducks which have been served during the past month have been thin and dry, and worst of all have tasted "fishy." Many of them have been thrown away as unfit for consumption.

The canvasback duck prefers the wide waters of San Francisco bay to the smaller bodies of water in the marshes. The canvasback would rather be in salt water if he can, and the only thing that will drive him inland to fresh water is a storm. Usually we have two or three good stiff blows from the southeast before this time of year, and when the ducks are driven inland shortly after their arrival from the north they remain in the same fine condition which characterizes them on their first appearance here.

As long as the ducks stay in fresh water they keep their plump condition and their flesh is sweet and good to eat; but after they have been on the bay for three or four weeks, living on the food they find in the salt water, they lose their fat and soon acquire the "fishy" taste that makes them disagreeable to the palate if not entirely unfit for food.

Louis J. Loesch, the well-known vineyardist, died at the home of his sister at Alameda last Tuesday after a long illness. He resided just below Mayfield and delivered wine here every week for many years. He was a well known figure in this community. He was born in Mayfield about 45 years ago. His wife died a few years since. An aged mother and two little daughters survive him.

Registration at the University is practically complete and has been unusually large for a mid-term enrollment. Up to 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon 1385 students had registered. A comparison with the registration at the fall term cannot be made, because but few preparatory schools graduate at Christmas, thus limiting the number of entering freshmen. Seventy out of the total number registering do so for the first time, however, which is a goodly number for the Christmas term.

Katie Frances Fischer, wife of William Fischer the butcher, who formerly resided at Mountain View and is well known in this vicinity, died at her home near Mayfield Tuesday morning. A week ago Mrs. Fischer took a cold, which rapidly grew worse until a few days ago pneumonia resulted and she rapidly became weaker until she passed away. A husband, William Fischer, three children, Lester, Alice and Willie, a mother and two brothers survive her. She was the daughter of Julia Murphy and the late Daniel Murphy, who came to this country in the early 60s. Mrs. Fischer was born and reared and educated near Mayfield. She was loved and respected by all who knew her.

Despite the inclement weather of Thursday evening there was a large gathering in Duff & Doyle hall to witness the joint public installation of Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W., and Bonita Parlor, N. D. G. W., of Redwood City. J. E. Fitzgerald in a few well chosen words called the meeting to order and turned the hall over to the Native Daughters. With the assistance of Grand Inside Sentinel Miss McVerry and Miss Meta Kugeler, the District Deputy Miss Roussel installed the following officers: past president, Dora Wilson; president, Lottie Wilcox; first vice-president, Rose Swift; second vice-president, Emilie Kelting; third vice-president, Mary Read; organist, Nellie Casey; treasurer, Mary Hanley; marshal, Sophie Offermann; financial secretary, Mary Townsend; recording secretary, Louise Roussel; outside sentinel, Nellie O'Keefe; inside sentinel, Emma Mengels; trustees, Louise Cullen, Minnie Gilbert, Nettie Kinne. At the conclusion of the impressive ceremony Miss Roussel, in a brief but eloquent address, presented on behalf of Bonita Parlor, the retiring president, Dora Wilson, with a handsome souvenir spoon. The recipient was taken by surprise and expressed her appreciation of the gift. The Native Daughters retired and gave way to the Native Sons. District Deputy A. M. Free assisted by District Deputy Joseph Nash and Mr. Emmett installed the following officers: J. E. Fitzgerald, past president; Frank Andrews, president; F. W. Johnson, first vice-president; J. Roach, second vice-president; James Rapley, third vice-president; Chris Kugeler, financial secretary; M. Walsh, marshal; Charles Smith, recording secretary; W. A. Doyle, treasurer; W. T. Casey, trustee; William O'Toole, inside sentinel; Grant Frombertz, outside sentinel. When the ceremony was over J. E. Fitzgerald in an appropriate speech presented the retiring past president, John Bracesco, with a beautiful sash. Mr. Bracesco feelingly thanked the members of the parlor for its token of esteem. An adjournment was then taken to the banquet hall which was a bower of beauty. About 100 persons sat at the tables that were loaded with all the delicacies of the season. Many toasts were responded to by the following: Ex-Grand President Charles Decker, Grand Trustee Monohan of San Jose, District Deputy Joe Nash, J. E. Fitzgerald, District Deputy A. M. Free and Miss Roussel. A. M. Free made an able and eloquent address in presenting on behalf of Menlo Parlor, to the outgoing president, J. E. Fitzgerald, a beautiful and costly emblematic pin studded with diamonds. He took occasion to dwell upon the good work done by the young president and commended the parlor for having such a zealous officer. Mr. Fitzgerald's response was sincere and graceful and showed deep appreciation for the honor conferred upon him. An orchestra was in waiting and soon the merry throng was lost in the mazy waltz. The event will long be remembered by the members of Menlo Parlor and those who attended.

OUR NEW CHIEF FIGHTS FIRE

French Laundry and Contents Meet With Misfortune.

The Anderson Building Adjoining, Three Times Ablaze, Saved By Heroic Work.

Shortly after 12 o'clock Tuesday night a fire occurred in the laundry owned by Miller & McCloskey and almost completely destroyed the building. The origin of the fire is unknown. It started in the upper story of the building and gained such rapid headway that the upper portion of the structure was in flames when the blaze was discovered.

One of the employes hurriedly notified F. W. Glennan, who resides near by, and Tom Stafford, night operator at the telephone office, who rung in the alarm.

The firemen responded quickly and with the assistance of several citizens soon had three streams pouring on the burning building. The fire gained such headway that the only thing left for the firemen to do was to save the adjoining buildings. Mr. Anderson's saloon was in imminent danger and for a while it was thought it could not be saved. It caught fire three times but the blaze was subdued in each instance. The adjoining structures were saved by the good work done by Chief Lowe and his men. For over an hour they struggled with the flames and finally brought them under control. All the movable machinery was taken out.

Miller & McCloskey, who recently purchased the laundry from E. Mourot, are heavy losers. Their loss will be $3,000. This is covered by insurance of $2,000, the Commercial Union having $600 on the building and $400 on the machinery, and the Aachen-Munich having like amounts on the property. George W. Lovie is the agent for the companies and yesterday the adjuster was here and allowed the full amount of the policies.

SCENE AT TUESDAY NIGHT'S BLAZE

Miller & McClosky had expended large amounts in machinery and made many improvements on the plant. The greater part of their earnings have been swept away by the fire. They have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

There was fully $1,000 worth of clothes ready for washing in the laundry at the time and this will be a loss that cannot be recompensed. The proprietors keenly feel their misfortune and particularly the loss to their patrons. They have made arrangements whereby they will be able to deliver the washing taken from the building and to continue their business until such time as a new laundry can be built.

Self-esteem is all right in its way, but it should not be allowed to become so apprrent as to render it obnoxious.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Case of Peculiar Interest Transferred to This County.

The damage suit of Dorothy Feeney, brought by her guardian Frances Feeney, against Richard McCann in San Francisco last November has been transferred to this county for trial. All the papers in the case were forwarded to Clerk H. W. Schaberg last Tuesday. The complaint alleges that the defendant was on July 15, 1904, the owner of a vicious dog which he carelessly permitted to run around the streets of the City and County of San Francisco; that on that date the animal was loose on Waller and Webster streets and set upon and attacked plaintiff, aged 9 years. She was badly bruised and suffered a severe nervous shock. Ever since then she has spells in which she barks, bites and growls like a dog. During all this time she is confined to her bed and has to be attended night and day. She is semi-conscious most of the time. Plaintiff asks damages in the sum of $25,000. William M. Cannon is the attorney for plaintiff and Morrison & Cope for defendant, who resides during the summer months at Beresford.

NEW CENTRAL THEATRE

San Francisco.

The offering at the New Central theatre for the week commencing Monday, January 15th, will be the stirring melodramatic success, "The Price of Honor." It is a play of wonderful heart-interest but is relieved throughout by excellent comedy which will give Marie Howe and Elmer Booth splendid opportunities. Miss Edna Archer Crawford, the new leading woman, will have a very strong part and Robert Wayne will of course be the hero. This play is far above the average melodrama and has been given with great success at the Metropolitan theatre, New York City, with some of the best American actors in the cast, but this is the first time it has ever been seen in San Francisco and its production is only possible because of the remarkably excellent company which Mr. Bishop has gathered for the New Central theatre. "The Price of Honor" will be followed by New York's latest comedy hit, "How Baxter Butted In."

Baptist Church.

There will be a service at the Baptist church Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. Missionary C. A. Parker of San Jose will preach.

AN ENDLESS AMOUNT OF FUN

"Cross-Roads Skule" Will Be Put On at the Alhambra.

Forty Prominent Citizens of Redwood to Assume the Role of School Children.

The opportunity of a lifetime to have a laugh, a roaring one that will last for months, will be given the citizens of Redwood City on Friday evening of next week, at the Alhambra theatre, when the old-time "Cross-Roads Skule" will be presented by forty prominent ladies and gentlemen of the city.

It is well that the warning is given to "wear loose clothes and see that the buttons are sewed on tight," for it will be a severe tax on wearing apparel to see staid lawyers, doctors, merchants and dignified dames, dressed in the costumes of long ago and reciting lessons, playing pranks and being punished for the same, just as mischievous children should be dealt with.

There are four acts in this most amusing of burlesques. The first is where the pupils are seen on their way to school; and such fun as they have; the boys laying traps for the girls, but the latter are too bright to be caught, the "tables are turned" and dismay falls to the lot of the frolicsome youngsters.

The second act opens by the children coming into school, where they are drilled to make manners to the teacher, for the most important thing in those far-away times was to teach the youths to be polite and graceful. Next is the roll call of a list of wonderful names, regular "jaw-breakers," and the school is then ready for its opening song, the like of which was never before heard. In quick succession classes recite; but the school tattler manages to get in her business and the boy who writes a love-letter, and the one who likes to sit on the girls' side, and a host of others, are exposed and punished. Watermelon Jackson the colored boy, who has the whooping cough, gives the teacher much trouble, but the master soon discovers that a liberal application of the rod is an excellent preventive, for Watermelon is subdued.

During the noon hour the pupils eat their lunch and then follow wild, rollicsome games, and this third act closes with excellent singing.

The fourth act is an eventful one for the "Skule," as the committeemen, headed by Deacon Wayback (W. H. Kinne) make a visit of inspection and the schoolmaster, Zelotus Whackem (C. T. Landscheit), brings forth his brightest pupils. A regular "spelling down" time is had and the Grammar class, the noted one (for in it are found some of the most mischievous children of "Skule,") are called upon to recite. Uriah Sloper (Dr. W. M. Barret) may be promoted, but Elijah Jim Tarbox (Guy Hull) and Usebius Skymore (P. P. Chamberlain) are rival candidates for the leather medal, as they daily have to be kept in for insisting to stand by Tillie Delilah Martin, who is in their class. New pupils are daily received into the "Skule" and the teachers undergoing special physical training to develop the muscles of his right arm, for he must keep order or lose his job.

The entertainment is given by the Native Daughters for the improvement of the public park, and they are working night and day to make Friday, January 19th, a red-letter day for Redwood.

CITY COUNCIL.

Application for Electric Road Franchise to Come Up Monday.

Right-of-Way Suits.

The Ocean Shore Railroad Company through its attorneys Geo. C. Ross and Corbett & Goodwin, has commenced two condemnation suits in the Superior Court. One is against Pietro Belli and others for a right of way over a strip of land containing 1.113 acres, bounded on the north by the property of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and on the south by property of M. O'Neal.

The other suit is against Louis Albertini, administrator of the estate of Severino Albertini, deceased, for a right of way over a strip of land containing 1.05 acres, bounded on the north by the property of Josephine Valencia and E. Daneri, and on the south by lands of McMahon.
